

July 29, 1942.

Mr. Joe Miles,
526 North Second St.,
Richmond, Va.

Dear Mr. Miles:

I am writing you to tell you to hold up publicity on the August 9th date in Richmond for a day or two. We had originally planned to come to Richmond for the 7th and 8th and play in Norfolk the 9th and 10th, as you know. Pompey suggested the change for several reasons, one it will save us making a jump from Norfolk to some place else for the 13th. Then too, he felt Richmond should be ready for a Sunday doubleheader, which I think it should also, however, I received word last night the man in Norfolk was objecting to us relinquishing the Sunday in Norfolk.

I am writing him an air-mail-special at this time and feel that he will possibly agree to the change, as the result of my letter, but until he does, we will have a hold-up. I will get the placards to you within the next day or two.

Very truly yours,

EM:CCJ